

Max, an Austrian native, is now operating out of Spain. He started deejaying reggae and jungle music around 2004 in venues all over Austria. Inspired by the Dub sound and the self-similar nature of jamaican music, Max began to produce music of his own in 2008. Shortly afterwards he teamed up with junglist heavyweight, Jacky Murda, co-founding the live-laptop-dub project "JingBong Ting," which resulted in his first release on WAR Recordings (Argon Records' white-label series) in 2010. Since then, we have seen Max Powa productions appear on labels like Jacky's imprint "Little Island" and Poland's Dubstep-flagship "Moonshine Recordings", with lyrical support from Top Cat (UK) and Ziggi (NL) respectively.

2012 marks the creation of Max Powa's own label Powa Cutsa founded together with Producer Lenny Roots. The label will feature a string of heavy Dub & Dubstep releases pressed on 7 inch vinyl! Following fractals in music, POWA CUTS collaborates with veteran reggae singers and transforms classic material into crisp, powerful vinyl cuts!
